

INDIVIDUAL GIVING TO ACLS

ACLS gratefully acknowledges donations from the individuals and matching gifts from the organizations listed below. If not otherwise designated, contributions go to the ACLS Fellowship Campaign, which seeks to increase the endowment devoted to fellowships, and the number and size of fellowship stipends that the endowment can fund. Gifts from ACLS fellows and individuals, contributions from institutional associates, and grants from the Mellon, Ford, Rockefeller, Hewlett, and other foundations continue to be critical to this campaign. In 2009, ACLS received donations from 881 individuals amounting to just under $240,000. These contributions helped us award fellowships totaling almost $9 million to 243 United States scholars in 2009.

ACLS gratefully accepts contributions directed to the following:

- ACLS/John H. D’Arms Fund, for support of the ACLS Fellowship Program and initiatives identified with D’Arms’s leadership in the humanities;
- ACLS/Oscar Handlin Fellowship in American History Fund, for support of a fellowship in American history;
- ACLS/Frederic E. Wakeman, Jr. Fellowship Fund, for support, when fully endowed, of a fellowship in Chinese history;
- Fund in memory of Frederick H. Burkhardt, president emeritus of ACLS, for The Correspondence of Charles Darwin; and
- Undesignated gifts, for support of all the work of ACLS.
