This position is only available through the Leading Edge Fellowship program. You may not contact the host institution to inquire about this position.
marketing/communications, and operations departments, and through these collaborations, will access SAGE participants in New York City and among SAGE’s network of 30 affiliates across the country. This is a full-time commitment for the fellowship year, including dedicated time for professional development activities.

Responsibilities and tasks:

- Work closely with the Chief Program Officer, SAGE staff members and program coordinators— as well as SAGE affiliates and partner organizations such as the Diverse Elders Coalition and the National Resource Center — to draw insights and translate findings into briefs, papers, infographics, and other resources that support on-the-ground organizing efforts
- Under guidance of Chief Program Officer, gather demographic information about LGBT African American and Latinx elders at the individual- and community-level and provide reports on that data
- Based on these projects’ findings, formulate a central research project that will be further defined and developed with SAGE
- Assist in conducting and transcribing research interviews, and in writing and formatting research summary reports, as needed to assist SAGE in developing new policies and procedures and programming to better serve communities of color.

Qualifications:

- PhD in any field of the humanities or humanistic social sciences. Read more about eligible fields here;
- Deep professional and personal experience working in communities of color;
- Demonstrated commitment to SAGE’s values of diversity and equity;
- Cultural competence in working with the LGBT and aging communities;
- Excellent writing and research skills;
- Familiarity with both qualitative and quantitative analysis. (Position will not require sophisticated statistical methods, but will require tabulation of basic demographic data from sources such as the American Community Survey and the U.S. Census Bureau);
- Excellent organizational skills and detail-oriented approach;
- Willingness to work in collaborative community organization environment; accountability to goals; and ability to work independently;
- Ability to work under time pressure, meet deadlines, and prioritize tasks;
- Alignment with SAGE mission and values.

Preferred:

- Applicant’s prior research contributes to the scholarship and understanding of gerontology, LGBTQIA studies, or African-American, Latinx and/or Asian community-based research.

APPLICATIONS

- Information on the Leading Edge Fellowship Program: https://www.acls.org/Competitions-and-Deadlines/Leading-Edge-Fellowships
- All applications must be submitted through the ACLS Online Fellowship Application System (ofa.acls.org)
- Application deadline: 9pm EDT, May 6, 2021

This position is only available through the Leading Edge Fellowship program. You may not contact the host institution to inquire about this position.